This book turned out to be so much more than I expected. The style of the book is unique. You're reading a set of emails Jules has sent to Ian about her crazy life. I will be honest, this format did put me off at the start, but it eventually grew on me, and I quite enjoyed reading a book like this. Once you pass the halfway mark, the book is structured like your average book. When I was reading, I felt like I was reading text messages from a friend. This made me feel more connected to the book and the characters. I felt really sad when it ended.

I particularly liked seeing Jules grow into her own person and accept her life the way it is. She became my favourite character because she never judged anyone because of their looks, and she always had her friends' best interests at heart. I think Pedley did a great job with her character development. I also think Pedley did an amazing job of describing the concept of there being another world beyond Earth. As the characters were feeling the energies and the power, I felt like I could feel it too.

There was nothing I disliked about the book, I had a great time reading the story. Pedley put in twists and turns throughout that kept me turning the pages. I couldn't put it down because I had to know more about Jules.

Overall, I would rate this book 4 out of 4 stars because it was undeniably an incredible book. I didn't find any mistakes, so it is exceptionally edited. I recommend this book to young adults who are looking for an adventure and want to be transported to another world. Just as a heads up, the book does contain violent scenes, so read at your own risk.
